LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

GREETINGS PINTO FAMILY,

Summer is moving by quickly and the busy show season is upon us!

The 2025 Pinto World Championship was wrapped up in June and we are thankful for another successful show! Looking back, the show seemed to fly by. We got to hear many inspiring stories of people who worked hard and overcame many obstacles to attend and compete at the Pinto World Championship. My interns and I were able to cover multiple aspects of media while at the show including daily press, exhibitor of the day highlights, photos, feature stories and social media highlights. All of our candid shots can be found on our Facebook album of the 2025 Pinto World Championship. The first ever Jailbird fundraiser took place on Saturday, June 14th where all the proceeds went to the Pinto Heritage Foundation. A memorial service was held for Barbara Hulse, a PtHA Past President on Thursday, June 19th.

This issue showcases the 2025 Pinto World Championship class results, championship high points and reserve high points. Be sure to keep up with us on our Facebook and Instagram social media accounts! Congratulations to all of the high point winners and Pinto World Champions; we want to acknowledge all of your hard work and dedication to earning these titles.

We are approaching the time to be thinking about Color Breed Congress! The pre-entry deadline is October 1st. The show is October 31-November 8, 2025 in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The class schedule, entry forms and more can be found at ColorBreedCongress.com. Mark your calendars because the show will be here before you know it!

PtHA OFFICE UPDATE

Greetings Pinto Family,

The 2025 Pinto World Championship has come and gone and what a great horse show it was! Kicking off the summer horse show season, the Pinto World Championship was held at the Tulsa Fairgrounds where we witnessed a high level of competition in all disciplines. I would like to say congratulations to all world champions and reserve world champions. Showing horses takes hard work and determination and it is always exciting to recognize our exhibitors. The weekend leading up to the show, we had our youth weekend featuring a speech contest and horse judging competition. We were able to award plaques, ribbons, buckles and scholarships sponsored by the Pinto Heritage Foundation. We hosted a Professional Horsemen's seminar and a scoring seminar over the weekend welcoming everyone at the show to attend.

The Pinto Heritage Foundation also hosted the first Jailbird Fundraiser at the show on Saturday, June 14th. For $50 you could have someone arrested and sent to the old time jail for 10 minutes. All proceeds helped support programs under the Pinto Heritage Foundation. I even had to spend some time in the jail myself! Later that evening the Joe and Barbara Grissom Exhibitor's Party took place outside the Ford Truck Exhibit Hall.

We always encourage you to look at the calendar and find weekend shows happening near you! This is a great way connect with the characters and gain confidence in the show pen.

Now it's time to be thinking about Color Breed Congress! The show is October 31-November 8th in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The premium book is posted on our website so be sure to look at the schedule. We are excited to welcome miniature horses at the show. Cash challenge and sweepstakes classes will be offered. NSBA, ABRA, PHBA and Cash for Color classes will be offered. The Go for the Gold Futurity will be held during the show. The pre-entry deadline is October 1st.

Can't wait to see you there!

Letter From the President

Greetings! I'm from Washington state. I got involved with PtHA when our neighbors were thinking about buying a mini mare for their daughter. My daughter, Klair, fell in love with the mare, Fancy, and they went to the costume class at one of the Pinto shows together. We met the owner of Fancy. Klair took driving lessons from the owner's son, and we bought Fancy in the spring of 2010. I was a show mom for Klair that summer at all our local charter Pinto shows.

Annie DiGiovanni, Kathy Thomas, and Darrell Bilke

I had shown horses when I was a kid and really wanted to start showing again. I looked for a driving horse but fell in love with a weanling gelding that Fancy's previous owner/breeder had and I bought him in the fall of 2010. We have been showing Pinto ever since. I have been to the Pinto World Championship show six times. Three with our horses, 2015, 2017, and 2021. In 2011, I went as a groom for my friend that was showing three horses that year. I went in 2020 to watch and help when we combined the world show with Color Breed Congress. This year, of course, I went as the president. Oh, I have so many favorite parts! I think my most favorite part is seeing all my friends from across the country, either showing, watching, vending, and our office staff, that I don't get to talk to very often.

I had an absolute blast at the show this year!! First thing, I would go into the office and talk to our fantastic staff. Talk to Darrell for a little bit. Find out if there was any special place I needed to be that day. I would go to the different arenas and watch and cheer on the exhibitors. It was so fun handing out the awards for the classes and meeting our fun ladies that were responsible for handing out all the awards for 13 days. I went to all the barns and met new people. Helped at the Heritage Foundation booth. Talked to vendors. Of course, shopped a little or a lot! I took a lot of pictures and videos of my own to document all the fun things going on at the show. One of the nicest things too was to chat with the staff of the show, judges, ring stewards, arena help, interns and all the people it takes to put on a show of this size. The highlight had to be handing out all of the high point awards and being able to tell everyone CONGRATUATIONS!! on their huge accomplishments. And last but not least, seeing all the youth in the judging and speech contests on the weekend before the show started. We have a bright future with our youth. The jailbird fundraiser was an absolute blast! I didn't help arrest anyone because our wonderful Bill Sparr, Second Committee Member of the Executive Committee, stepped in to help Sheriff Annie, with those important duties! I had fun helping with collecting arrest warrants and advertising the fundraiser. The cookout was so fun! We were honored to have Frankie Justin sing, along with a special guest. The food was delicious! The weather ended up cooperating so we were able to sit in the sunshine instead of a rain storm.

I'm looking forward to meeting even more new people and seeing their hard work pay off in the show pen at Color Breed Congress. I will be there for about 12 days. I would tell them to come and enjoy every second! It goes by so fast when you're there. I would tell them that everyone at the show is so friendly, will help with anything you need, and win or lose, it will be an experience that you will never forget and will want to come back again and again!

Behind Bars for a Cause

JAILBIRD FUNDRAISER MAKES ITS DEBUT AT THE PINTO WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

At this year's Pinto World Championship, a unique and laughter-filled fundraiser had participants looking over their shoulders—not for show results, but for their own arrest warrants. With handcuffs, mock arrests, and plenty of good-natured mischief, the Pinto Heritage Foundation's first ever Jailbird Fundraiser made its debut at Pinto World, turning fun into funding for youth scholarships and programs that support the next generation of Pinto Horse Association members.

Annie DiGiovanni, President of the PtHA Heritage Foundation, shared that this event had been in the works for several years. "We were looking for a creative way to raise money and bring more awareness to the Foundation's mission," she explained. "This idea kept coming up and we knew it would be a fun way to get the Pinto community involved. All the funds raised go directly to the Foundation and help support our youth and scholarship programs."

Participants could pre-purchase immunity passes or issue "arrest warrants" for their fellow exhibitors, sending friends, trainers, and even family members to a U.S. Marshal jail cell wagon. At first, only a few brave souls got involved. But once the arrests started happening in the barns and warm-up pens, curiosity took over. Spectators watched as handcuffed "jailbirds" were escorted across the showgrounds laughing, posing for photos, and putting on a show of their own. The star prop of the fundraiser was an authentic U.S. Marshal jail cell wagon, courtesy of Don McGee. A familiar face at both the Pinto World Championship and the Color Breed Congress, Don and his ministry have been involved with Pinto events for nearly a decade. The jail cell wagon, built in Lawton, Oklahoma by Doyle Wagons, gave the fundraiser a true Wild West flair.

"When they asked if they could use it, I was all for it," said Don. "It's all for the kids. Seeing my setup help the Foundation's mission really hit home. It's about giving back and in-

Don also enjoyed watching the reactions from those served with warrants. "There was a little fear and a lot of pride when folks realized they were the one with a warrant," he laughed. "But once they were inside the cell, they were good sports about it." One of the first "inmates" was trainer Alan Shaw, who admitted he didn't know who put in the warrant for him, but had a few guesses. "Honestly, it was kind of nice to sit down for a minute. The handcuffs were a bit much," he joked, "but this is such a fun way to support the Foundation."

Julie Kunde was another behind bars. "If I ever turned me in, they're without stirrups all just in November," Still, she admitted kind of relaxing in was our first day showing, so I didn't peace and quiet. This fundraiser adds so to an already incredible er good sport find out who riding year—not she teased. that it was there. "It off from mind the kind of much fun show."

Of course, every good jailhouse story needs an escape attempt and Kevin Woodford did not disappoint. "I thought I could make a run for it," he said, grinning. "But once I was locked in, I realized it actually smelled pretty good in there. Next year, I'll be the one issuing the warrants."

From first-timers to seasoned Pinto families, the fundraiser was a crowd-pleaser—and Annie is already thinking about next year. "Now that we've got the first one behind us, the possibilities are endless," she said. "We can't wait to build on this and get even more people involved."

With all proceeds going straight to the Pinto Heritage Foundation's youth programs and scholarships, the event proved that giving back can be just as fun as it is impactful. As Annie put it, "Fundraisers like this help us grow, help our kids, and bring our Pinto family even closer together."

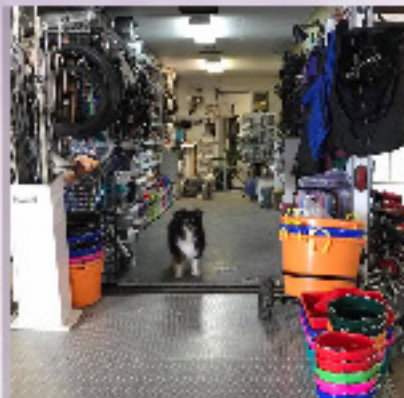

And if you're showing at Pinto World next year, watch your back. That arrest warrant might already be in the works!

35 Years of Stitching Tradition

After 35 years, Tioga Territory continues to transform thread into timeless keepsakes. Before Tioga Territory was created, Debbie Hughes, the owner and founder, was working for another company for 14 years and did not want to relocate from Chanute, Kansas.

“I was buying embroidery items for my husband, who is a professional trainer, from someone in town,” Debbie Hughes said.

The idea for the business came about when the local embroidery shop in Chanute was going out of business.

“We didn’t buy the business because we didn’t want those types of machines, but it did put the idea in our heads since I was already buying embroidery items for my husband,” Hughes said.

Initially, a retail store named Personal Touch was opened in Chanute, Kansas. As the business shifted toward western wear, a new clothing line called Tioga Territory was launched.

“The name was so well received that we dropped Personal Touch and adapted Tioga Territory for the entire business.”

The township in Chanute is named Tioga, which originated from a Native American term meaning “road traveler.”

“When I researched the word ‘Tioga,’ I found out it could be a group of Native Americans but also be from another tribe,” Hughes added.

A Native American tribe once settled in the Neosho River in Chanute, which led to the creation of Tioga Township.

After a few months in retail, Debbie and her sister noticed slow periods and decided to expand into trade and horse shows.

“Appaloosa Nationals was our very first show, but Pinto World Championships was the second horse show we attended,” Hughes said. “We have not missed one Pinto Horse Association of America show in 35 years; it is our favorite one.”

“We have been shopping with Tioga so long that we look forward to it every year,” said Carol Timmerman, Founder of Timmerman’s Ranch & Saddle Shop

“We have been shopping with Tioga so long that we look forward to it every year,” said Carol Timmerman, founder of Timmerman’s Ranch & Saddle Shop. “I won’t let my clients look at any other booths besides Debbie’s. If you can’t find it here, then you’re not going to find it anywhere,” she added.

Other shows that Tioga Territory is the official apparel merchandiser besides PtHA are National Cutting Horse Association, Appaloosa Horse Club, Palomino Horse Breeders of America, Western Dressage Association of America, and Pony of the Americas Club, Hughes added.

Tioga Territory offers embroidery services on lots of different clothing items, awards, bags, blankets, chairs and more.

“It doesn’t matter what I pick out, or how I want her to fix it, everything is done here perfectly every time,” Timmerman said. “I guarantee it.”

At the Pinto World Championships, Tioga Territory brings four embroidery machines.

These are used to personalize jackets and promotional items with names, teams, winnings and class places.

“I always tell my clients to come to the booth with the voucher from PtHA to receive their jacket with their name and winnings added to it,” Timmerman said.

At every Pinto World Championship and Color Breed Congress, Tioga Territory is located in the Exhibit Hall of the Ford Truck Arena.

“My favorite part of working with the PtHA is working with the customers who are excited about their wins,” Hughes said. “I love to congratulate them and see the smile on their face!”

Twinning and Winning

Making it a goal to attend the Pinto World Championship takes a lot of work and sacrifice. The Jaenisch family knows this as they had big dreams of attending the world show. Riding horses has always been a family activity. For them, the decision was made last November as the family decided that the 2025 Pinto World Championship would be the year they traveled to Tulsa and competed. Deacon and Raelynn Janish are 12 year old twins and enjoy showing in a variety of classes. Coming from Granite Falls, Minnesota, the trip to Tulsa consisted of 13 hours on the road.

“Financially we weren’t ready for it last year but this year we decided to commit,” said Deacan and Raelynn’s mom. “You always want to wait for the right time, but I thought when is it ever going to be the right time?”

Raelynn began riding at a young age on a miniature horse and has been riding since, she said.

“I did a lot of leadline at first,” Deacon said. “I took a two year break and then started riding again from there.”

Raelynn’s rides All For The Fame, barn name of Charger, she said. Raelynn’s favorite class to show in is either Western or English Ideal, she said.

“Charger is good at both disciplines and when we come together, we are really good at ideal,” Raelynn said. “He’s good at standing on the rail.”

Raelynn won reserve champion in Ideal Pinto English Horse/Pony.

Deacon rides, In Line For Candy, who he calls Bullet, he said. His favorite class to show in is Western Trail or Western Pleasure, Deacon said.

“I just like going over poles,” Deacon said. “In Western Trail we had a really good pattern.” In Western Pleasure Solid Horse/Pony Deacon took fourth place in the world. Over the course of the 2025 Pinto World Championship, Raelynn competed in 17 classes and Deacon competed in 15 classes, Raelynn said.

“We ride a lot of weekends and sometimes we ride after school,” Raelynn said.

The Jaenisch family is apart of the Gary Wasson show group. They live an hour and a half away from Gary's and are committed to being in the saddle as much as they can.

"We ride a lot at Gary's, usually when we practice we are doing either English or Western disciplines," Deacon said.

The end of February they got connected Gary and his group and began training to get here to the world show, Chantel said.

"It's apart of getting here," Chantel said. "When we made the commitment to come to the world show we talked about what it would take."

Getting to show with Gary and his show group opened a lot of doors for the Jaenisch family, Chantel said.

"Meeting Gary and the crew here was kind of our first introduction of the Pinto Horse Association and we just absolutely love it," Chantel said.

Being the same age, it can be hard to compete as siblings, Chantel explained. Deacon and Raelynn really try to be supportive of each other, Chantel said.

"We like the Pinto side of everything because both horses are full paints but when we come to Pinto they don't have to compete against each other," Chantel said. "I really appreciate my kids being really good cheerleaders."

Over the course of the show Raelyn and Deacon were able to make a lot of new friends, Chantel explained.

"I met a lot of friends while waiting to go into the arena by asking questions and then they respond and then we just start talking," Raelyn said.

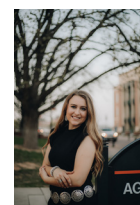

The parents are really great and always willing to help out, Chantel said.

"Not knowing what to expect at this level of competition coming from a small town it's very refreshing and not have experiences of bad sportsmanship," Chantel explained.

The Jaenisch family plan on coming back to the Pinto World Championship in the future as they had such a positive experience for their first year.

PROUD CORPORATE PARTNER AND OFFICIAL HALTER OF

She Made Him Fancy

From the Barn to the World Stage: Addison Criner and Hez That Fancy's Journey to Victory

Eighteen-year-old Addison Criner from Coweta, Oklahoma, doesn't just ride horses—she raises champions. What began as a family effort to clean up a rundown barn has grown into a labor of love and determination, culminating in a remarkable win at the 2025 Pinto World Championships with her home-raised gelding, Hez That Fancy.

“I’ve lived in Coweta my whole life,” Addison shares. “My parents bought our barn when I was one. It wasn’t in great shape, but we cleaned it up ourselves. My mom used to show halter horses, but I knew early on that I wanted to ride.”

And ride she did. Starting out on POA ponies as a child, Addison captured the all-around title at the POA Congress by the time she was just eight or nine. But even while showing, she had her eyes set on something bigger. During those early years, Addison and her mom bred a couple of mares to All Time Fancy, which led to a string of homebred horses including Lizzie, Boaz, and eventually, the horse that would change everything, Nitro, or better known as Hez That Fancy.

Addison's story is not one of privilege or easy access—it's a story rooted in grit, hard work, and a do-it-yourself mentality. “We started raising babies because we couldn’t afford to buy horses or pay a trainer,” she explains. “My mom taught me how to break them, and we've worked together on every one. I've broke about six horses we've raised now, and honestly, it's my favorite part." That hands-on approach helped forge a deep bond between Addison and Hez That Fancy—affectionately known as "Nitro" around the barn. "He's so rotten," she laughs. "My mom says I baby him, which I do, because I love him. He's 17.1 hands tall and still growing. He was intimidating at first, but he came around so much quicker and easier than any of the others. He was just so powerful."

Their road to the Pinto World Championship wasn't without bumps. Addison had shown at the event two years earlier with little success. "The tornado had hit, and it just didn't go how I planned. I didn't make the cut in any of my classes except one," she remembers. But this year was different, she said.

"Walking into the warm-up pen and seeing 22 other horses—I was so intimidated. But I told myself, 'If he keeps it together, he'll win. If not, he won't.' And then he just went in and took over the arena. I was in awe. I had never shown in a class that big before."

Nitro did more than just show up—he shined. The pair competed in six classes! Placing first in Hunter Under Saddle, English Pleasure, and Hunter Halter Geldings, third in Novice English Pleasure, fourth in Ideal Pinto English and sixth in Novice Ideal Pinto English.

"This was his first big show," Addison says proudly. As for what's next, Addison plans to attend West Texas A&M, hoping to continue riding while balancing college life. She's eyeing future competitions like Paint Worlds and Color Breed Congress, though she knows it won't be easy.

"It's expensive to get there," she admits, but she would love to go.

Regardless of what's next, Addison has already proven that talent, passion, and perseverance can take you a long way—no matter how humble the beginnings. From a small barn in Oklahoma to the world championship spotlight, she and Hez That Fancy are living proof that dreams, when nurtured with care and commitment, can grow into something extraordinary.

"It's been an awesome dream. It's definitely been a dream." Addison states.
