LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Happy New Year everyone!

2026 has just begun and we are excited for the year to come. Looking back at 2025, we were able to make wonderful new memories by meeting new people and coming together at horse shows. In November we concluded our 2025 Color Breed Congress and it was the best way to end the year! It was one of the largest fall shows we have had with a high number of exhibitors. This issue covers all of the class winners and high points winners of Color Breed Congress. The dates for next year have been released so make sure to mark it on the calendar to attend this year!

We are getting ready for our annual convention here in Oklahoma City, February 26-28 at the Embassy Suites. Be sure to check out the schedule that can be found on our website and get registered to attend.

The top 10 can be located on page 18.

Thank you for all of the entries we received, it is always fun to see everyone show off their horses!

PTHA OFFICE UPDATE

Hello Pinto Family,

Happy New Year! 2025 was a great year and now we are looking forward to 2026. Looking back last year, we were able to add some fun at our nationals shows, including the Jailbird Fundraiser at the Pinto World Championship and the Pumpkin Painting Contest at Color Breed Congress through the Pinto Heritage Foundation. We also had a halloween costume contest at Color Breed Congress. It's memories like these that we cannot wait to make more of in the future.

I would like to congratulate our class champions and high point winners highlighted in this issue of the 2025 Color Breed Congress. Your hard work paid off and I can't thank you enough for choosing to come to Tulsa and compete at the Color Breed Congress.

The dates for the 2026 PtHA Convention has been set: February 26-28, 2026 in Oklahoma City at the Embassy Suites. We hope to see you there! All forms can be located on our website.

This summer the Pinto World Championship is set for June 6-20, 2026 in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The pre-entry deadline is set for April 25th and the premium book will be released early this spring.

If you haven't already, make sure to renew your membership for 2026. We are looking forward to a great year ahead!

Family and Fortune: A Story of the Power of your Loved Ones

Family means everything when it comes to most. They're your livelihood, your backbone, who you can lean on no matter the circumstance. Your family should always be there for you. They should lift you up when you're feeling down, and shine a light, even in the darkest of times. This strong family dynamic is no different when it comes to the Price family. Each day, Richard Price lives out his dreams of raising a family involved in the horse industry with his wife Tina, son Jeremy, and daughter-in-law Cera, who all share their love and passion for the horse world each and every day.

Richard Price grew up south of Dallas, Texas, where his father, Valter Price, raised and trained mules for a living. From there, Richard grew to love the equine world and training, slowly transitioning from mules to horses. Throughout his adulthood, Richard met his other half, Tina White, and founded Price Show Horses, out of Brenham, Texas. Before retiring, Richard showed in a number of disciplines; starting with Cutting, moving to Pleasure, and finishing with Halter. Throughout the duration of his career, he was able to fulfill his greatest goal, raising a family along with his horses.

His daughter-in-law, Cera, also grew to have a similar lifestyle, but started a little differently. "I worked at a Girl Scout camp for a number of years, the same camp where I learned to ride," explained Cera. "I eventually became their equestrian director and helped lead the show team there." One year she had a client who wanted to get a competitive horse and show at the Pinto World Show, so she helped make it happen. Together, they found a horse and began working. In June of 2013, this show being Cera's first time exhibiting at it, both she and her client won their respective Hunter Under Saddle classes.

But this wasn't the only success to come Cera's way, this show was also where she met Jeremy. With a laugh, Cera explained, "we went on our first date at the show. Three weeks later he was moving to Alabama for me, and here we are, the rest is history.” That same year, the two of them created JC Show Horses located in Mount Pleasant, Tennessee, she explained. “It was a long ride getting to this point,” explained Cera, “but we’re so lucky to be here.” Jeremy added, “It means so much to be able to live a lifestyle like this. My father was very influential to me growing up and I couldn’t ask for anything other than this, I credit him for everything.”

Growing up, Jeremy watched Richard show, and that had a big impact on him, Jeremy explained. While observing his father, Jeremy knew what he wanted to be, and his father wanted him to make an impact as well. Nevertheless, Richard feels he did just that. “It was truly a blessing to raise him right, amazing almost, to offer such a great life.” The impact this opportunity had on not only

Jeremy, but his father goes further than words can explain. “To me, raising a family was something I always wanted to do, and I’m so lucky to have had the best people be a part of it.”

Now, Jeremy and Cera live day by day, doing what they love, with Richard supporting them every step of the way. Family means everything to them. From the show arena to their home in Tennessee, Richard, Tina, Jeremy, and Cera all remain strong in their devotion to the horse industry and their loved ones they call family.

Color Breed Congress Recap

The 2025 Color Breed Congress took place October 31st-November 8th, 2025 in Tulsa, Oklahoma with NSBA, ABRA, PHBA, All Breed Ranch Horse, and miniature horse classes. PtHA offered Cash Challenge classes and provided the venue Cash for Color Futurity and the Go For the Gold Futurity. Over $250,000 in prizes and awards were handed out throughout the show. PtHA awarded medallions, Perris Leather Halters, Gist buckles, Tioga Territory jackets, chairs, Kensington Products, and more.

Over the course of 9 days, we saw 2,227 horses show with 2,030 exhibitors. Our entries totaled over 4,800. We saw 285 NSBA exhibitors compete at the Color Breed Congress. $6,000 was paid out in the 3-year-old Western Pleasure Color Registry NSBA Futurity and the 3-year-old Hunter Under Saddle Color Registry NSBA Futurity. PtHA hosted a Halloween costume competition on the first day of the show. Judges were selected and exhibitors were encouraged to participate. Pets and horses were allowed to be dressed up and compete in the contest. One adult winner and one youth winner was selected. There was also a pumpkin painting competition sponsored by the Pinto Heritage Foundation.

Pumpkins were provided for exhibitors to pick up, paint, and bring back to the office for judging. Anyone was eligible for judging by paying a small fee. All the proceeds went to support the Pinto Heritage Foundation scholarship program. Be sure to keep up with us on our social media at Pinto Horse Association on Facebook and Instagram. Media coverage of the show can be found on both of those platforms.

Frightfully Fabulous: Highlights from This Year's Halloween Costume Contest at Color Breed Congress

It was Halloween night, the intercom was still calling for classes as the sun went down and the Halloween spirit came out. Back in the stalls tucked away from the arenas the hustle and bustle of trick or treaters flooded in. Lots of aisle fronts were seen giving out candy to the kids running around in their costumes. The air was full of laughter and the smell of candy.

Soon enough the ID station was full of people and horses in costumes. Everyone had something different. Even dogs got dressed up as the mystery machine and the cutest little hotdog riding around on a scooter. The creativity was on point for the costume contest. A homemade bubble bath costume for a horse whose rider was a woman enjoying her retired life.

When Olivia Pikul was asked about her costume by the judges she laughed and responded to them with a joke, "What happens when a paint horse takes a bath?" Everyone quietly anticipated her answer and she answered with "They come out spotless!" The judges giggled and continued to write down the scores for her costume.

The crowd was like waves throughout the night. There were times everyone came at once and had a long line waiting to present themselves or their horses to the judges. Then we had times of one or two trickling in and the judges loved to take the time to admire their costumes. Lots of people crowded by the ID station to see what kind of costumes people had come up with for themselves or their horses.

A few dogs got dressed up by their owners, Hannah White, a Color Breed Congress exhibitor, chose to dress up her dog as a fairy princess who rocked it like a star. When asked about what she was looking forward to this show, she replied “Showing my three horses, I am showing two William Woods horses and my personal horse. Jazzy San Pep, I Promise I Will Be Good, and my personal horse, Another Gentleman.” Hannah has competed at Color Breed Congress before and decided to share the class she’s looking forward to the most. “I’m competing in amateur ranch and I am most excited for my discipline rail class with Jazzy San Pep and today I won my Amateur Bareback Western Horsemanship with my horse, Another Gentleman.”

Three hours flew by as everyone came through with their costumes. Some of the group costumes consisted of the Monsters Inc family and a huge group of the Minions. Everyone did a great job at showing off their costume making skills and creativity. The judges had a hard time judging this contest with such a wide range of diversity, it would be hard to choose our winners. One adult winner and one youth winner was given a prize.

When one of the judges, PtHA Youth President Addison Holland, was questioned about how she judged the class she responded with, “Someone who took the time to build or put thought into the costume. Handmade not bought at the store.” Most of the judges were looking for the same things all around. Mike Adams, another judge, stated, “Something new and original, something that has not been done before. The presentation of the costume matters, get into character, give it a story.”

This was a fun contest for everyone to participate in, people, horses and dogs. Lots of different costumes from everyone who came by. The judges had a great time seeing what everyone could come up with. Congratulations to our adult winner, Bradi Drilling, who dressed up as a hotdog tender with the most adorable hotdog around. Applause to our youth winner Graysen Shelton who dressed up as Glenda from Wicked and her horse was dressed up as Elphaba. A big thank you to everyone who came out to the barns to trick or treat, join the costume contest or just mingled around the barns.

Paint, Pumpkins, and Pinto Pride

This year at Color Breed Congress, the Pinto Horse Association Heritage Foundation brought festive flair with a pumpkin painting contest. Hosted on Halloween, the event invited participants of all ages to unleash their creativity and transform ordinary pumpkins into extraordinary works of art. Once decorated, the pumpkins were proudly displayed at the PtHA Heritage Foundation booth for a few days, where attendees could support the cause by making a donation and casting a vote for their favorite design.

Every dollar raised from the contest directly supports the PtHA Heritage Foundation Scholarship Program; a meaningful initiative that supports Pinto Horse Association members pursuing higher education. Currently, the Foundation offers 26 scholarships annually, awarding an estimated $10,000 to deserving students who embody the values of the Pinto community.

At its core, the PtHA Heritage Foundation is dedicated to uplifting members and youth while honoring the rich legacy of the Pinto breed. In addition to managing the Scholarship Program, the Foundation oversees the PtHA Hall of Fame Program, which celebrates individuals and horses who have made lasting contributions to the Pinto world. This includes the equine industry's very first Judge's

Hall of Fame. Beyond awards and scholarships, the Foundation plays a vital role in preserving Pinto history. Through the collection of donated memorabilia and artifacts, it safeguards the stories, achievements, and traditions that define the Pinto Horse Association's past, present, and future. The Pinto Heritage Foundation came up with the pumpkin painting contest as a fun way to engage Congress exhibitors and attendees.

PtHA Past President, Kathleen Gallagher & Pinto Heritage Foundation President Annie DiGiovanni working the Pinto Heritage Foundation booth at Color Breed Congress.

Miranda Hassler, PtHA staff member and Pinto Heritage Foundation Representative, explained, “We wanted to raise awareness for the scholarship program. We plan to expand the contest next year and maybe implement online voting.” There were nine decorated pumpkins up for judging. During the chili cookout on Wednesday night of Color Breed Congress, the Pinto Heritage Foundation crowned Jodi Distad as the winner of the pumpkin painting contest. The “Zombie Trainer” pumpkin was very creative and a fan favorite, and she received a trophy and ribbon.

The pumpkin painting contest was a successful fundraiser, and the Pinto Heritage Foundation is appreciative of everyone who participated and made donations. The pumpkin painting contest brought light on the Pinto Heritage Foundation and raised money for a great program. The Foundation appreciates everyone who participated, donated, and helped make the contest a successful fundraiser and a meaningful part of the Congress experience.
