The diagram illustrates a dressage test pattern on a rectangular arena. The pattern is defined by a solid line and a dashed line. The solid line starts at a circle labeled 'Start' on the left side, moves vertically down, then curves into a large loop that occupies the right half of the arena, and finally returns to the start. The dashed line follows a similar path but is offset to the left of the solid line, creating a narrow track. A series of vertical lines on the left side of the arena indicate the starting position and the direction of movement. The pattern is designed to be performed in a single direction, starting from the 'Start' circle and ending at the 'Exit' point on the right side.

Halter

Ring stewards will direct exhibitors in all halter classes. The patterns below are only meant to give exhibitors a general idea of the class procedure. After pattern is complete, ring stewards will line exhibitors up head to tail to be inspected. Exception: pleasure and saddle types will stand for inspection prior to trotting away from judges.
